

Symposium at Blaise Pascal University: Encounters of French and Japanese Philosophies, The 3rd Session, Japanese Views of Rationality

This symposium was held at Maison des Sciences de l'Homme, Blaise Pascal University, Clermont-Ferrand, France, on January 26th. Presenters were all Japanese, two teaching staff (Takashima, Miura), three graduate students (Ito, Okachi, Saito) of Ochanomizu University. In addition, Mr. Ishida, who studied philosophy in Japan and the United States and is now in Paris, joined us and read his paper.

French teaching staff and students of Blaise Pascal University participated in this symposium and we had significant discussion.

With respect to the success of this symposium, we must mention the contribution of French professors, especially their advice and encouragement for Japanese students. And we appreciate Mr. Ishida's efforts, especially correcting English translation and good interpretation of our presentation and discussion. .
